背景: The protein encoded by this gene is a cell-surface glycoprotein involved in cell-cell interactions, cell adhesion and migration. It is a receptor for hyaluronic acid (HA) and can also interact with other ligands, such as osteopontin, collagens, and matrix metalloproteinases (MMPs). This protein participates in a wide variety of cellular functions including lymphocyte activation, recirculation and homing, hematopoiesis, and tumor metastasis. Transcripts for this gene undergo complex alternative splicing that results in many functionally distinct isoforms, however, the full length nature of some of these variants has not been determined. Alternative splicing is the basis for the structural and functional diversity of this protein, and may be related to tumor metastasis.

Immunohistochemistry analysis of paraffin embedded Human gastric cancer using 220318(CD44 Antibody) at a dilution of 1/45(Cell membrane).

In comparison with the IHC on the left, the same paraffin-embedded Human gastric cancer is first treated with the synthetic peptide and then with 220318(Anti-CD44 Antibody) at dilution 1/45.

The image on the left is immunohistochemistry of paraffin-embedded Human ovarian cancer using 220318(Anti-CD44 Antibody) at a dilution of 1/45.

In comparison with the IHC on the left, the same paraffin-embedded Human ovarian cancer is first treated with synthetic peptide and then with D261338(Anti-CD44 Antibody) at dilution 1/45.
